Flying Away is a powerful and moving novel by Randall Rueff that explores the themes of loss, longing, and the search for meaning in life. The novel tells the story of a young woman named Sarah who is struggling to come to terms with the death of her husband. As she grieves, she begins to question everything she once believed about life and death.

Sarah's journey is a deeply personal one, but it is also a universal one. We all experience loss in our lives, and we all have to find a way to cope with it. Flying Away offers no easy answers, but it does provide a compassionate and understanding look at the grieving process. Rueff's writing is lyrical and evocative, and he creates a vivid and immersive world for his characters. Flying Away is a novel that will stay with you long after you finish reading it.

The Characters
