

Lawyering the Feminist Revolution: The Feminist History Society Book

The Feminist History Society (FHS) is pleased to announce the publication of its new book, Lawyering the Feminist Revolution. This groundbreaking work brings together the voices of leading feminist lawyers and legal scholars to explore the role of lawyering in the feminist movement.

Lawyering the Feminist Revolution is divided into three parts. The first part, "Feminist Legal Theory and Practice," examines the theoretical foundations of feminist lawyering and its impact on legal practice. The second part, "Feminist Lawyering in Action," provides case studies of feminist lawyering in a variety of contexts, including reproductive rights, employment discrimination, and violence against women. The third part, "The Future of Feminist Lawyering," looks at the challenges and opportunities facing feminist lawyers in the 21st century.
