

Southern Baptist Missionary To China In History And Legend: Southern Biography

The Southern Baptist Convention has a long and storied history of sending missionaries to China. These missionaries have played a vital role in the spread of Christianity in China, and their stories are full of adventure, sacrifice, and triumph.

Lottie Moon: A Southern Baptist Missionary to China in History and Legend (Southern Biography Series)

by Regina D. Sullivan

★★★★☆ 4.3 out of 5

Language : English
File size : 3148 KB
Text-to-Speech : Enabled
Screen Reader : Supported
Enhanced typesetting: Enabled
Word Wise : Enabled
Print length : 277 pages

The first Southern Baptist missionaries to China arrived in 1845. They were William Dean and John L. Shuck. Dean and Shuck faced many challenges in their work. They were often met with hostility from the Chinese government and from the Chinese people. They also had to learn a new language and culture. But they persevered, and they eventually established a number of churches in China.

In the years that followed, other Southern Baptist missionaries followed in the footsteps of Dean and Shuck. They worked in all parts of China, and they played a key role in the growth of the Chinese church. Some of the most famous Southern Baptist missionaries to China include Lottie Moon, Francis Lynn Capron, and John Birch. These missionaries were all dedicated to the cause of Christ, and they made a lasting impact on the lives of the Chinese people.

The work of Southern Baptist missionaries in China has not been without its challenges. The missionaries have faced persecution, imprisonment, and even death. But they have never given up on their mission to spread the gospel of Jesus Christ. Today, there are over 100,000 Southern Baptists in China, and the church is growing rapidly. The legacy of Southern Baptist missionaries in China is a testament to the power of God and the faithfulness of his people.

Lottie Moon

Lottie Moon was one of the most famous Southern Baptist missionaries to China. She was born in Virginia in 1840, and she felt called to serve as a missionary at a young age. In 1873, she arrived in China, and she spent the rest of her life working among the Chinese people.

Moon was a gifted evangelist, and she preached to thousands of Chinese people during her time in China. She also established a number of schools and orphanages, and she helped to train Chinese pastors and leaders. Moon's work had a lasting impact on the Chinese church, and she is still remembered as one of the greatest missionaries of all time.

Francis Lynn Capron

Francis Lynn Capron was another famous Southern Baptist missionary to China. He was born in North Carolina in 1858, and he felt called to serve as a missionary at a young age. In 1881, he arrived in China, and he spent the rest of his life working among the Chinese people.

Capron was a gifted doctor, and he used his medical skills to help the Chinese people. He also preached the gospel, and he established a number of churches in China. Capron's work had a lasting impact on the Chinese church, and he is still remembered as one of the greatest missionaries of all time.

Francis Lynn Capron was a famous Southern Baptist missionary to China. He was a gifted doctor, and he used his medical skills to help the Chinese people. He also preached the gospel, and he established a number of churches in China.

John Birch

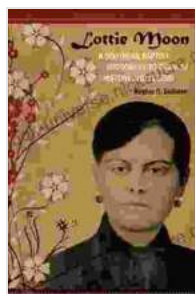

John Birch was another famous Southern Baptist missionary to China. He was born in Georgia in 1899, and he felt called to serve as a missionary at a young age. In 1921, he arrived in China, and he spent the rest of his life working among the Chinese people.

Birch was a gifted evangelist, and he preached to thousands of Chinese people during his time in China. He also established a number of schools and orphanages, and he helped to train Chinese pastors and leaders. Birch's work had a lasting impact on the Chinese church, and he is still remembered as one of the greatest missionaries of all time.

The Southern Baptist Convention has a long and storied history of sending missionaries to China. These missionaries have played a vital role in the spread of Christianity in China, and their stories are full of adventure, sacrifice, and triumph. The legacy of Southern Baptist missionaries in China is a testament to the power of God and the faithfulness of his people.

Lottie Moon: A Southern Baptist Missionary to China in History and Legend (Southern Biography Series)

by Regina D. Sullivan

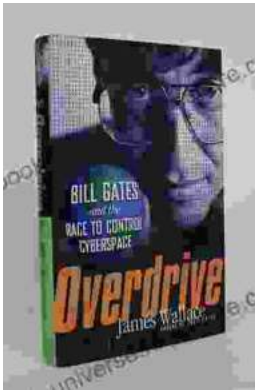

★★★★☆ 4.3 out of 5

Language : English

File size : 3148 KB

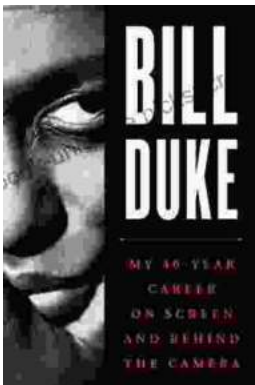

Text-to-Speech : Enabled

Screen Reader : Supported
Enhanced typesetting: Enabled
Word Wise : Enabled
Print length : 277 pages

The Race to Control Cyberspace: Bill Gates's Plan for a Digital Divide

Bill Gates has a vision for the future of the internet. In his book, The Road Ahead, he argues that the internet will become increasingly important...

My 40 Year Career On Screen And Behind The Camera

I've been working in the entertainment industry for over 40 years, and in that time I've had the opportunity to work on both sides of the camera.

I've...